

From Kenya: "I received your gift of books yesterday with a heart of praise and thanks, for it is an answer to my long time prayers of "Lord, give me eyes to see the children as you do".
Myself and my co-worker in the school I serve, spent most hours of our day reading the books only to realize that the books were speaking to us mightily, and so timely."

From Nigeria: "I am filled with joy to inform you that I have received the books and they have already started making my Sunday School joyous."

From USA: "Thank you so much. We are a medium sized inner city church with very limited funds. We are rebuilding and restoring after a devastating fire and these supplies will go a long way in building up our children's department"

From Tanzania "I am a Pastor I have a Church so I am using these books to teach my fellow assistants who help me to train children in my church and other Churches. Also in my life they train me a lot in my spiritual life. Many Churches they used to come and borrow it and after two weeks they return to our Library. My God bless you indeed. Continue sending because many are benefiting."

From Serbia: "We are very grateful for your financial help to cover translation and printing cost of these so valuable books. It will be impossible to have these books without your help, and our countries would therefore lose much on the spiritual level."

From USA: Thank you so much. Several years ago I was going to ask for this when we started some other churches but I kept thinking, well, maybe someone needs it more than me, but I do want to always do a better and better job. Thanks

From Ghana: "I am discovering lots of Biblical truths from the books that are helping me as a child evangelist and helping my ministry too. I have learnt the simplest way to teach the message of salvation to boys and girls. And I have gained understanding that it is right to allow the Holy Spirit convict them of sin and not to take advantage of the openness of the children."

Nothing is impossible for Him in your life and ministry – the salvation of unsaved loved ones, the meeting of financial needs or the strength and enablement for the ministry to which He has called you. Trust Him completely.

4. CONFIDENCE in your service for Him. When God calls you to do something and you do it, you can be sure and confident that God will accomplish His purposes and plans (1 Thessalonians. 5:24). You do not need to worry about results. You can leave those confidently in God's hands. This confidence will take away frustration, stress and worry and give you patience, peace, motivation and action.

5. ZEAL in your evangelism. A belief in God's sovereignty will not (or should not) reduce your zeal and desire to evangelize. You will see that you are the means which God uses to achieve His purposes and this privilege will stimulate you into action and keep you from being passive and complacent (Acts 18:9,10).

6. WORSHIP. Above all, and most importantly, this belief will lead you and help you, more and more, to worship the almighty sovereign God (Psalm 95 :3-6, 1 Chronicles. 29:10-13), and this is what He wants you to do more than anything else (John 4:23,24)
